ANOTHER RECORD IS BROKEN AT TRACK IN JUAREZ

Jockey Garner Makes Good Ride Sunday—Third Race the Feature.

Another track record was broken at the Juarez track Sunday. In the third race for a distance of five furlongs, Pajarito set a new mark for the short going, making the distance in 59 3-5, which hangs up a new record for the track. Each day of the races develops some faster time than has been made at any previous time since the course opened and it is expected to break some world's records before the meeting closes.

The third race was the best of the Sunday card, seven of the best horses at the track going to the post for this event. Enfield with McCahey up was the favorite at short odds and received the most play. Pajarito went to the post at an eight to one shot but soon proved to have it over the favorite, running strong at the finish. Pajarito was out in the first part of the race but took advantage of an opportunity to get through when Arch Oldham tired and laid over on Sugarmaid. This gave the winner the opening and Pajarito went for the wire and beat out Sugarmaid in a seamy finish.

Garner, who is back in the saddle after being on the ground from a combination of an accident and a barrier penalty of three days, rode a clever race on Pajarito. He has the ability and nerve to get through on the rail and has won a number of races on this move. Schilling, who was set down for three days Friday, has gone to Oakland with H. G. Bedwell to ride one of the Bedwell horses that was shipped from the Juarez track. He is expected back again after next week. Archibald, another clever rider, is seen to be back at work. His injured foot has healed and he expects to get it into a riding boot this week.

GLORIO WINS THE NEW YEAR HANDICAP

El Paso Horse Takes First Place in Fifth Race Saturday.

Gladio won the New Year's handicap at the Juarez track Saturday against a field of six horses. Gladio, owned by the Fine stables, carried top weights with Prince Ahmed, each having 126 pounds on board. Getting away third, Gladio allowed Prince Ahmed, Righteas and Meadow to take turns as pacemakers until the stretch was flying behind them. Then Gladio responded to Rice's urging with winning spirit, overtook Meadow and finished better than two lengths in the lead. Meadow was second and Prince Ahmed, with Shilling up, was third.

A good crowd attended the New Year's racing, or Ano Nuevo handicap, as it was named on the program, Saturday being an ideal day for racing. Lady Panchita, with Garner back in the saddle, won the opening event, and the rest of the card was scattered among the other stables. Gladio, belonging to Pete Adams, of El Paso, winning the fifth race from a field of five horses.

FRISCO MAY NOT GET NELSON FIGHT

Sid Hester Announces Deal Off for Nelson-Wolgate Fight.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—Sid Hester, the local fight promoter, has announced that the chances for holding a fight between Nelson and Wolgate for the lightweight championship is slim. Hester says that the fight at San Francisco was promptly declined by Tom Jones, Wolgate's manager. An effort is being made to frame up a fight for Wolgate and Powell. The Wolgate-Powell fight of Nov. 23 went 20 rounds with Wolgate getting the decision and another fight is expected to be a big drawing card.

Jones left here for Los Angeles on business and it may yet be possible for the Nelson fight to be pulled off at Tom McCarry's. Nelson is opposed to fighting in San Francisco and the Milwaukee boy may get a chance at the champion in Los Angeles.

NEGRO CHAMPION GETS IN TROUBLE

Refuses to Perform in Cold Theater and Has Baggage Attached.

Torre Haute, Ind., Jan. 3.—Varying his usual program of being arrested for auto speeding, Jack Johnson did a turn at the union station Sunday that was a bit out of the ordinary. He refused to go on and do his boxing turn at the local theater as advertised, claiming that the house was too cold and that the audience was too small. He could not afford to go into a cold theater, perhaps forgetting that he slept outdoors on the Galveston wharf when a lad.

The manager of the local theater had had experience, costly experience, in handling just such cases as "Mistah" Johnson's. Theatrical companies had gone but no one had ever beaten that manager out of his pound of flesh. Johnson went down to the station, called the "depo" in these parts, bought a ticket for Columbus, Ohio, and was waiting for the train to arrive when the manager appeared on the scene in company with a constable.

Johnson's 21 trunks were attached for the amount of the manager's part of the profits resulting from Johnson's show. Johnson bucked. Not only did he buck; he mounted his baggage and threatened to push in anyone's face who dared to touch his precious trunks which contained his red vests and London smoke suits. The constable called the police and the police called the prize fighter. Capt. Armstrong brought enough men to the station to overpower half a dozen negro bruisers and Johnson's baggage was loaded into a drag and hauled off to the constable's office. Johnson said he would stay over and fight the case.

MIGRATION OF WALKERS

FROM EAST AND WEST

The winter migration of pedestrians has begun. Cross country walkers are arriving from different places bound for one place and another on wagers, according to their own story, ranging from $5000 up, winner to take all. Palmer, the Oklahoma City walker, arrived here last week and is still suffering from a sore foot. Charles Hahn, who calls himself the "Khaki Kid," arrived Sunday from the west on his way east. He says he is walking to earn money to get a college education and must reach New York in 250 days after leaving San Francisco.

Palmer, the Oklahoma City long distance walker, who has been laid up here since his arrival, has a badly swollen foot, is able to be out today and is arranging to continue his long hike from here to San Francisco and from there to New York. Palmer will leave for San Francisco Saturday morning from in front of The Herald office and will go from there to Tucson.
